

The Global Investment Attraction Group provides comprehensive solutions for companies reshoring. Our approach is to guide companies every step of the way during the transition process by tailoring services to specific industries and needs – you can focus on growing your business with peace of mind

Site Selection Services: If you are considering reshoring -relocating, our team can help you arrive at the right destination for your business. We play a matchmaking role in connecting you with economic development organizations in regions throughout the U.S that are best suited for your specific needs.

Soft Landing Services: Companies setting up new operations in any community will need assistance with establishing a corporate entity, permits, and local approvals, and optimizing their processes

Our soft landing services are designed specifically to ensure that businesses expanding into a new market are provided with an accelerated introduction into that market's business practices, regulations and culture.

This fee-based process begins with an assessment to identify your unique needs. Depending on your needs, temporary operating space is provided, and you are paired with a specialized resources team designed to assist you with your specific requirements.
